Making time to participate in the social aspects of campus life will greatly broaden my BYU experience. Not only will it lead to more involvement in my community, but it will also provide activities that I can do with my friends to build closer relationships. I also believe that in the future the most memorable things from my college experience won't be the classes I took, but rather the activities I immersed myself in and the opportunities I took. This will also meet the aims of a BYU education. By putting myself in situations where I can interact with others as well as myself I will allow growth in the four areas of faith, intellect, character and service.
